MONTHLY MEETING

April 23, 2019

Flamingo Hotel and Resort,
2777 Fourth Street, Santa Rosa

11:00 Chit Chat

11:30 Business meeting with lunch to follow

Speaker, Dana Bryant, Co-Founder & VP, Crossing the Jordan

Topic: "The Scourge of Trafficking and Opioids:

We're Saving People, One Life at a Time"

Dana Bryant's life story reads like a novel, but it isn't. It's real. She still asks herself sometimes how she went from being high school cheerleader, student council member and part of the "In" crowd to college dropout, young wife in an abusive relationship to drugs and prison.

But her story has a happy ending. With her eventual husband Michael who was also in prison, she turned her life around and together they created Crossing the Jordan. This is an 18-month residential recovery program that serves those affected by addictions, domestic violence, human trafficking and homelessness. They focus on building relationships, leaders and opportunities.

Dana will tell her story and describe the goals and successes of Crossing the Jordan. It has six retail thrift shop locations and storage, moving and hauling businesses. Dana and Michael are loving, visionary entrepreneurs who, together with their team, provide full support for their recovery programs. <http://crossingthejordan.org>

Lunch reservations, unless cancelled the Friday before the event, will be billed to you.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Hate-filled Media.

Every morning I breathlessly turn to the newspaper Editorial page to see what new diatribes the Dems have written against President Trump. As usual, at least three or four letters spew their hate. What a waste of energy to have so much hate in one's heart!

One letter-writer quoted every Dem talking point (probably mimicking CNN or MSNBC). The writer claimed to have "heard him ask Russia for Hillary Clinton's email." She called President Trump a liar, a traitor, that he should be impeached and that he and Mike Pence weren't legitimately elected. Others claim that he hasn't done anything in office to help our country. Ahem, like Obama did?

For starters, our president has accomplished more in his first two years than most presidents do in eight years. His administration has created nearly 5 million new jobs, 600,000 of them in manufacturing. Black, Hispanic and Asian unemployment are the lowest in history. He opened up ANWAR for oil exploration and approved the Dakota and Keystone XL pipelines. We are now energy independent and the #1 producer of oil and gas in the world.

He initiated the "Right to Try" for terminally ill, "First Step" for prisoner reform, the "Veterans' Choice" program, the "Veterans' Accountability Act," "Opportunity Zones" for left-behind communities, "Operation Cross Country XI" to combat human trafficking and launched Space Force as the 6th military branch. He's taken at least 200 more positive actions to improve our country. However, you'll never see or hear it in the media.

Bothered by his tweets? He must tweet. It's the only way he can respond to the vitriol or mention his accomplishments. According to the Washington Post, only 7% of the media are registered Republicans. The media are like branches of the Dem Party; they feed off each other.

So keep tweeting, Mr. President and we'll keep writing supportive letters to the editors! Sandy Metzger, President

MEMBERSHIP - Moira Jacobs, 2nd Vice President

As Sandy points out in her letter, we are up against a massive wall of propaganda and irrational hatred. As members of SRRWF, our first mission is to educate and advocate for our shared conservative Republican values. Please consider joining the Membership Committee to help fulfill our mission. We need help in getting new recruitment materials created and printed and new ideas for reaching more potential members. We have lots of fun and interesting small projects you could do from home or with a friend.

This is a good time to remind everyone of our transition.

Caroline Hall and I have partnered together for the past two years to grow our membership to over 100. As I move over to my new role as your VP of Programs, we'll all continue to work together to reach our stretch goal of "200 by 2020!" We can make it happen! If everyone takes up an oar and helps power our great ship, we can do it!

As Senator Mike Morrell reminded us: we can't sit back and stay silent. We all must do something to protect our USA from the left wing radicals and their horrible plans. Please contact our new VP of Membership and join a great team!

THE SKEPTICAL OBSERVER

We hear references all the time to the California Legislature. How much do we know about the Legislature and state departments? Here are some basic facts.

The California legislature is comprised of two houses: the Assembly and the Senate.

- ◆ The Assembly consists of 80 members
- ◆ The Senate consists of 40 members
- ◆ A Senate term is four years and
- ◆ An Assembly term is two years
- ◆ No legislator may stay in office more than 12 years
- ◆ James Wood is the Assemblyman for District 2
- ◆ Mark McGuire is the Senator for District 2
- ◆ Bill Dodd is the Senator for District 3
- ◆ Cecilia Aguiar-Curry is the Assemblywoman for District 4
- ◆ Mark Levine is the Assemblyman for District 10

The California Supreme Court has seven members and the Justices are appointed by the Governor. Currently, the Chief Justice is Tani Cantil-Sakauye.

The standing committees for the Senate and the Assembly are where legislation is introduced, voted on and then depending on the vote sent on to the full legislature and then the Governor.

The Senate Standing Committees are

- ◆ Agriculture
- ◆ Appropriations
- ◆ Banking and Financial Institutions
- ◆ Budget and Fiscal Review
- ◆ Business, Professions and Economic Development
- ◆ Education
- ◆ Elections and Constitutional Amendments, Energy, Utilities and Communications
- ◆ Environmental Quality
- ◆ Governance and Finance
- ◆ Governmental Organization
- ◆ Health; Human Services
- ◆ Insurance
- ◆ Judiciary
- ◆ Labor
- ◆ Public Employment and Retirement
- ◆ Natural Resources and Water; Public Safety
- ◆ Rules
- ◆ Transportation
- ◆ Veterans Affairs

The Assembly Standing Committees are

- ◆ Accountability and Administrative Review
- ◆ Aging and Long-Term Care; Agriculture
- ◆ Appropriations; Arts, Entertainment, Sports
- ◆ Tourism and Internet Media
- ◆ Banking and Finance, Budget
- ◆ Business and Professions
- ◆ Communication and Conveyance
- ◆ Education; Elections and Redistricting

- ◆ Environmental Safety and Toxic Materials
- ◆ Governmental Organization; Health
- ◆ Higher Education
- ◆ Housing and Community Development; Human Services
- ◆ Insurance
- ◆ Jobs, Economic Development and the Economy
- ◆ Judiciary
- ◆ Labor and Employment
- ◆ Local Government
- ◆ Natural Resources
- ◆ Privacy and Consumer Protection
- ◆ Public Employment and Retirement
- ◆ Public Safety
- ◆ Revenue and Taxation
- ◆ Rules
- ◆ Transportation
- ◆ Utilities and Energy
- ◆ Veterans Affairs
- ◆ Water, Parks and Wildlife

In addition to the regular committees there are numerous sub and joint committees. The number of committees gives us an indication of how much the government is involved in our daily lives. However, it is the individual committees that need to be contacted regarding specific legislation. Information regarding who is on each committee, the chair and how to contact can be found at the web sites listed below.

Web site addresses are listed. These web sites provide detailed information about how the legislative process works. If we want to affect the direction that California is taking it is imperative that we understand how the system works. Calls and e-mails to legislators do have an effect especially when the number of contacts starts to go over 200.

Newsom Kills The Death Penalty

Earlier this week, Governor Newsom announced that he was effectively ending the death penalty in California, despite voters clear support of it time and time again, and granting reprieve to more than 700 death row inmates. Whether or not it is even legal for Governor Newsom to override the will of the voters is still unclear, and there are many victims' rights groups and District Attorney's offices around the state working on the question on constitutionality right now. The California electorate has voted to keep the death penalty three different times in recent years, with the latest death penalty measure on the ballot not just supporting it, but effectively speeding up the process to execution. In 2016, Gavin Newsom claimed he would uphold the "will of the voters" after his referendum to repeal the death penalty failed. "I would not get my personal opinions in the way of the public's right to make a determination of where they want to take us" on the death penalty, he said three years ago. And yet, here we are. What other promise is Governor Newsom willing to go back on?

Rent Control Again

In another example of ignoring the will of the voters, California Legislative Democrats are working on passing a rent control bill, despite the electorate's decisive rejection of it last fall. AB 1482 (Chiu, D) comes in a housing bill package that includes a series of legislation that aims to target rent. AB 1482, in particular, would annually cap rent increases. Just 4 months ago, voters blocked the passage of Prop 10, which would have imposed rent control state-wide. So why then, do our Democrat leaders think they know better than California's voters? Simple economics tells us that a rent control does nothing to truly protect renters in this market. Rent control will create shortages when landlords are forced to sell and then where do renters turn? They can't afford to buy a home either. What we need is affordable housing creation, and rolling back burdensome CEQA (California Environmental Quality Act) reforms on housing construction is a step in the right direction. Legislative Democrats should listen to Californians and leave Costa-Hawkins alone!

More Taxes, Please

In another effort to squeeze small businesses until they are dry, the state is trying to collect back taxes from e-commerce retailers that sold their products on Amazon while temporarily housing their merchandise in California. If the company had any sort of physical presence in California since 2012, the state tax collection agency is asking the small business merchants to pay up. But some of these retailers didn't even know they owed the state of California taxes, since they didn't know that their merchandise was ever housed in Amazon's California fulfillment centers. This crack-down of "third-party" sellers on Amazon could leave many of them bankrupt and out of business. They could face a $5,000 fine on top of the back taxes and interest, as well as prison time. California's Tax and Fee Administration said it alerted more than 2,500 online retailers that they may own California back taxes. But these "third-party" sellers claim they have no control over where Amazon sends their merchandise, so Amazon should be on the hook for the alleged back taxes. Either way, the state should figure out how to promote small businesses to flourish in our state by easing the tax burden, but instead they continue to drive business further and further away.

Paycheck Fairness Act Is Not for Women

The U.S. House of Representatives scheduled to take up H.R. 7, the so-called "Paycheck Fairness Act" on Wednesday, March 27. Republicans on the House Education and Labor Committee unanimously opposed this measure when it was considered earlier this month. Democrats will try to frame opposition as anti-woman. It is important that you know the facts.

- ◆ Equal Pay for Equal Work is already the law in America.
- ◆ This legislation is little-more than partisan grandstanding by the Democrats.
- ◆ H.R. 7 is not for women - it is for trial lawyers looking to score unlimited paydays while dragging working women through never-ending legal battles

CALL 202-224-3121 and Ask for Your Congressman

TALKING POINTS ON H.R. 7*

(What the Democrats don't want you to know about the "Paycheck Fairness Act")

Equal pay for equal work, regardless of the sex of the employee, is the law. In 1963, Congress passed the Equal Pay Act (EPA), legislation that made it illegal to pay different wages to women for equal work. The following year, Congress enacted even broader nondiscrimination laws, making it illegal for employers to discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, and sex in Title VII of the Civil Rights Act.

H.R. 7, the Paycheck Fairness Act, is a hyper-partisan Democrat bill that offers no new protections against pay discrimination in the workplace. Instead, it makes it easier for trial lawyers to score unlimited paydays while dragging working women through never-ending legal dramas.

H.R. 7 directly benefits trial lawyers at the expense of working women by:

- ◆ Making it much harder, if not impossible, for job creators to defend against frivolous lawsuits, even when a difference in pay is the result of legitimate factors other than sex;
- ◆ Requiring job creators to prove that 100 percent of a pay difference between employees of different sexes is the result of business necessity – an impossible standard to meet;
- ◆ Allowing trial lawyers to pursue unlimited compensatory damages, even when the alleged discrimination is entirely unintentional, in addition to unlimited punitive damages.
- ◆ Changing EPA class action lawsuits from an opt-in system to a mandatory opt-out system, tying more women up in long-running employment lawsuits and limiting their legal options, while providing a financial windfall to trial lawyers.

H.R. 7 places new and unprecedented restrictions on job creators during the hiring process by prohibiting them from inquiring about the wage history of a prospective employee. A similar provision in a Philadelphia city ordinance was recently found to violate the First Amendment by a federal district court.

H.R. 7 also requires employers to submit thousands of new elements of worker pay data to the government, broken down by race, sex, and national origin. The bill also directs the EEOC to collect additional hiring, termination, and promotion data from businesses. These mandates pose a serious threat to workers' confidentiality and their right to pay data privacy.

*Prepared by the Committee on Education and Labor Republicans

The NFRW believes equal work deserves equal pay, regardless of the sex of the employee. H.R. 7 offers no new protections for women - it is a boondoggle for lawyers. Working women deserve better than empty partisan promises in pretty pink packages.

AMERICANISM

AMERICANISM

One Hundred Years of Voting, 80 Years of NFRW

We've come a long way, Ladies! One hundred years ago, on June 4, 1919, the 19th Amendment was proposed in Congress and it took until August 1920 for three fourths of the states to complete ratification. Women finally had the right to vote!

Republican women's clubs had begun forming in the late 1800s, and they sprung up rapidly across the country. It wasn't until 1938 that Marion Martin, assistant chair of the Republican National Committee, called a meeting in Chicago to organize these clubs into a national organization. At the time of NFRW's founding, three states—Maryland, Virginia, and Alabama—had not ratified the 19th Amendment. California was one of the original 11 statewide federations to become charter members of the NFRW that year.

Originally named the National Federation of Republican Women's Clubs, it was changed to the National Federation of Republican Women in 1953. In the early days, the Federation was a lobbying group and an auxiliary of the Republican National Committee. Today it is financially and organizationally independent and one of the largest grassroots political organizations in the country.

Political education and leadership development are still two of NFRW's primary objectives. You may visit the national headquarters in Alexandria, VA. Or, visit its website at www.nfrw.org where you will find NFRW history, Federation news and activities, Republican women of distinction, and a plethora of other fascinating information.

The Moving Wall is a half-size replica of the Vietnam Veterans memorial in Washington D.C. It was devised by John Devitt, after he attended the 1982 annual commemoration ceremonies celebrated in Washington for Vietnam veterans. He felt that he needed to share his experience with those who did not have the opportunity to go to Washington, Devitt, Norris Shears, Gerry Haver, and other Vietnam veterans volunteered to build the Wall. The Moving Wall travels the United States from April through November, spending 5 to 6 days at each site. The last week of April it is in Windsor California. SRRWF were represented at it's viewing.

SPRING CLEANING CLEAR OUT ?

The Ways and Means Committee (our club fundraising committee or AKA Drawing Baskets) is requesting items that you might not need, don't want, never asked for, or just want to rehome. We would like to use your "gifts" in future baskets that are the giveaway prizes from your generous ticket buying at our monthly luncheons or dinner meetings. Perhaps you have:

New items from Christmas, gift cards, a bottle of wine, soaps, lotions, olive oil, Republican and Trump themed items, great book, or a pretty vase? We are open to anything you would like to re-gift.

Please bring items to our monthly luncheons and we will find a wonderful new home and at the same time help fund special needs in our Republican club. In gratitude,

Honoring Our Heroes

National Police Week

How about if we bake (or buy) cookies, cakes, brownies, donuts, scones etc. for our law enforcement that week? We'll add a note of thanks!

You may bring your goodies to Sandy's (1313 St. Helena Ave. corner of Park, Santa Rosa) every morning that week, and several of us will deliver to the stations. They said they'd welcome the treats. Please label and indicate if Gluten Free or if nuts are in your recipe. Put on paper or plastic plates and cover + your label. THANKS!

Taxes and Immigrants

Enough is enough. Our Governor has now pledged $25 million to help asylum seekers and $5 million for a migrant support center. What about our U.S. citizens who are homeless? Don't they count?

Why are taxpayers supporting illegal immigrants? What about our hard-working citizens who cross the Golden Gate Bridge every day and will have higher commuting costs from an increased bridge toll? Along with gas taxes and car registration increases the Governor now wants to tax water.

California is one of the highest taxed states. Yet instead of using our taxes for roads, infrastructure and aid for our citizens, we give money to people who are here illegally. It is time for us to speak out about how we want our taxes spent?

The governor thumbs his nose at our President and condemns the border crisis a national emergency but expects the government to continue to fund his special projects. My question is: Who does our Governor working for? The California citizens or illegal immigrants whom he believes have a right to reside in our state? What is his mission in El Salvador? To try to make the path easier for the Salvadorians to enter California?
